

KANSAS APPLESEED
Justice for all.

Did you know?

You may be eligible to receive in-state tuition if you attended high school in Kansas for three or more years, even if you don't have a lawful immigration status.

Under Kansas law, you are eligible to receive in-state tuition at

PUBLIC KANSAS UNIVERSITIES, COMMUNITY COLLEGES, AND TECHNICAL COLLEGES,
regardless of your immigration status,
if you meet these criteria:

1. You attended high school in Kansas for three or more years,
2. You graduated from high school in Kansas (or earned a GED in Kansas), and
3. If you don't have a lawful immigration status, or if you have a legal nonpermanent immigration status,¹ you must send an affidavit to the college saying you will apply to legalize your immigration status as soon as you can. To get a copy of that affidavit to sign, contact the college's admissions or registrar's office.

For more information, contact your high school counselor or the registrar's office at your college.

1. If you currently have a valid student visa, or if you are eligible for in-state tuition in another state, you are not eligible for in-state tuition in Kansas. You can read the full Kansas statute (K.S.A. 76-731a) online at: http://www.ksrevisor.org/statutes/chapters/ch76/076_007_0031a.html
